School Bonds Sold.

The School Board has at last sold the school bonds recently voted to build a new school house in Butler at the neat prices of 99 1-4 cents, to the Bates County Land and Loan Co. J. K. Brugler & Son, managers. The school board deserve great credit for their indefatigable labors in procuring bids and getting the best prices possible for them. They had printed circulars of such bonds for sale and sent them to capitalists all over the United States, but the Loan Company, under the management of these enterprising business men, J. K. Brugler & Son over bid them all. This is a good price and the members of the Board deserve a vote of thanks for their labors in the interests of the people. Now the plans and specifications will soon be forthcoming and the work put under way to erect one of the onest school buildings in the southwest.

C. B. Robinson, for the past three years a partner in the blacksmithing business with J. N. Gipson has severed his connection with the shop and has accepted a situation in the M.K. & T. shops at Sedalia. Mr. Robinson is a first-class smith, a sober industrious gentleman, and while we regret to lose his valuable services as a mechanic from our Butler shop, we are glad to learn of his good success in securing a position at Sedalia. May good fortune and good luck attend him and his excellent family in their new home is the wish of the TIMES.

The Pride of Butler.

The TIMES takes pleasure this week in calling the attention of its readers to the large and handsome stock of boots and shoes to be found at the exclusive boot and shoe establishment of Max Weiner. We can say without fear of contradiction that he has the largest and finest assortment ever placed on exhibition in this city. His large room is filled from floor to ceiling with all kinds of goods in his line. His former reputation as the king boot and shoe man of the Southwest does not require that he should publish a price list to convince the public that he butchered prices this season. Don't fail to call on him. East side the square.

See the very elegant line of pictures on exhibition this week at the opera house furniture store. American chromes, genuine oil paintings, French Oleographs, pastels, Indolint engravings, panels, landscapes and many others, from 25c to $25. Come in and see this fine collection and remember that we sell you furniture as low as the lowest, and if your bill amounts to $10 we will make you a present of a picture 24x30 inches, and if the bill is $25 a handsome oil painting 24x30.

Walker Herald:—Rev. L. P. Siceloff, of the M. E. Church South, preached his last sermon in Walker for the conference year last Sunday. Rev. Siceloff has endeared himself to all whom he came in contact in our community of all denominations. His people and congregation greatly appreciate the service he has rendered during his stay among them. He has given many convincing evidences of his ripe scholarship, exhibited both in and out of the pulpit, he faithfully, earnestly and zealously presses the claims of Christ upon both saint and sinner. A man of his ability deserves a better fate than to be compelled to put up with the advantages derived on this circuit. If a minister can pull through one year in Walker, he need have no fear of starving to death anywhere in Missouri.

WHY

WE DO IT!

We have been complimented on all hands by our customers during our recent bargain sales for our successful effort to bring Boots & Shoes down to hard time prices. We continue to offer our entire large stock at these remarkably low figures and will tell you how and why we do it.

Money is not only scarce with the farmers, but wholesale merchants and manufacturers feel the depression as well. Buying for cash exclusively we are enabled to buy low and as our sales are governed by the same rule we do not require large profits. We have this year enjoyed the most prosperous of our 14 years dealing with the citizens of Bates county. Because we sold double the quantity of goods, though at only 1-3 the former profits. We will continue selling CHEAP as it is our aim this year to have every citizen of Bates county give us a trial. We want you to try the quality of our goods which we guarantee to be unapproachable. We mean business and will consider it a compliment for you to visit and examine our stock and learn our prices we can convince you how to save money. Come and see the goods we advertise. Remember we are the only
